The highest score awarded to a Spanish Sparkling Wine in the history of Robert's Parker list

"I'm not sure if there is any other sparkling wine producer in the world who works with such strict standards (...) There is a sense of energy and harmony in their wines that is impressive; they are all highly recommended."

“Recaredo keeps producing better and better Cavas (and now some still wines too in Celler Credo).

Their focus on the vineyard, including the organic and biodynamic work clearly pays back in the quality of their wines”.

“(...) Recaredo deserves as much respect as the feted Champagnes and should be bracketed in with some of the greatest sparkling wines in the world. (...) Their prices may be expensive, but then again, how much is a bottle of Cristal or Krug?”
